By Day

Enginner at a Tokyo based company
(April 2008-)

A nighttime photograph of a busy Japanese city street, likely in Tokyo. The scene is illuminated by streetlights and the glowing windows and signs of numerous buildings. In the background, the distinctive red and white lattice structure of the Tokyo Tower rises prominently against the dark sky. The foreground shows a street with cars and pedestrians, with various commercial signs and billboards visible on the buildings lining the street. The overall atmosphere is one of a vibrant, bustling urban environment.
